Multimedia Specialist

Description

About Wikimotive

Wikimotive is a boutique digital marketing agency with a “work hard, play hard” mentality. We pride ourselves on being both results-driven and culture-centric. As such, an ideal candidate would be one who contributes on multiple fronts—offering both the required skill-sets and a willingness to be a part of a great team. They would be motivated, proactive, embrace expectations of accountability, and have a strong commitment to excellence in all that they do.

What is a Multimedia Specialist at Wikimotive?

At Wikimotive, a multimedia specialist will be tasked with a variety of projects, both audio and visual in nature. The ideal candidate will be a capable multitasker, arriving with software proficiency, a willingness to expand those skillsets through on-the-job challenges, and the ability to balance inspired creativity with competent project and time management skills.

Within a delegated departmental structure, enthusiastic teamwork and communication skills are considered paramount.

Qualifications

Proficiency in various Adobe Creative Suite tools, specifically:

- Illustrator & InDesign for creation of graphic assets.
- Photoshop & Lightroom for editing of photographic assets.
- Premier Pro & After Effects for video editing and post-production.
- Audition for audio editing, mixing.

Note: Proficiency in other industry-standard creative platforms are considered valuable, but secondary in importance (for standardization purposes).

Application Process

Written resume should be accompanied by a video (1:00 – 5:00 in length) introducing the applicant while displaying their creative competence, while reflecting their personal style. #beyourself #nojudgment

Examples of video styles might include:

- Casual “This is Me” type video, presented in the first-person.
- Fun, stylized attention-grabber, designed to make a lasting impression.
- Sizzle reel of past work with voiceover.
- Spotlight on technical proficiency.

If interviewed, applicants should be prepared to present a physical and/or virtual portfolio displaying their proficiency through examples of past work. If team projects are included, applicants should be prepared to discuss their specific role within that
